

Building Strategic Partnerships

Turning Strategy Into Action...

...Action Into Solutions

High Resolution,
Ultra-Fast Imaging
And Measurement Specialists

The
Cooke
Corporation

The Cooke Corporation is a leader in high resolution, ultra-fast imaging and measurement technology. Now we've taken this leadership position a step further by teaming with our customers to provide a solution-specific approach.

Strategic Integrated Partnerships is helping our customers sharpen their market focus, capitalize on global opportunities and re-energize operations.

“The Strategic Partnership Connection”

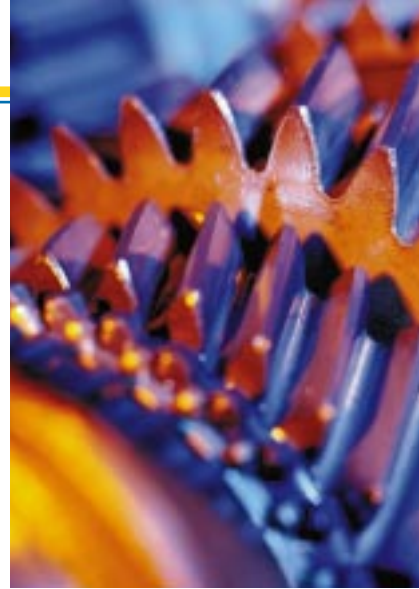

“Team Core Competencies”

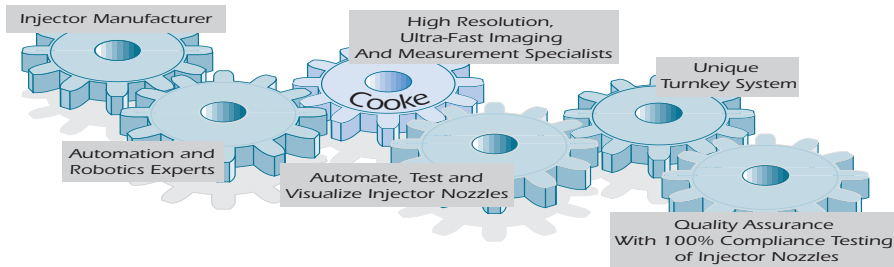

Meeting imaging and measurement challenges — drawing on our strengths

Systems Integration

- Complete turn-key solutions, integrating hardware and software
- Prototyping of original designs
- Complete assembly and test of systems

“A Strategic Integrated Partnership In Action”

This injector manufacturer experienced as much as 50% rejection of its fuel injector nozzles. Cooke's collaborative partnership with the automation and robotics experts delivered a unique custom test stand, resulting in 100% compliance testing of every fuel injector nozzle.

Vision Systems

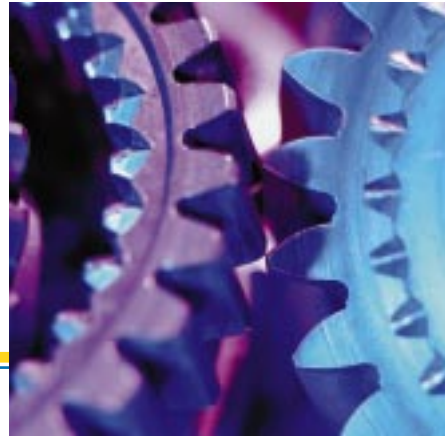

- Wide range of camera technologies, from conventional video to high speed or high sensitivity
- Specialized lighting systems for optimal visualization
- Image analysis systems for character recognition, automated measurement, device characterization

Software

- Rapid development of custom applications
- Customization of commercial software packages to meet specific requirements (macro development)
- Integration of measurement results with standard office tools (spreadsheet and database records)

Opto-Mechanical Design

- CAD for custom mechanical and optical components
- Computer-based simulation of optical systems
- Custom fixturing for mechanical integration of system components

Benefits

- “Combined” team effort gains in skill and knowledge
- Gain competitive advantage
- Enriched-based solutions to improve bottom line profits
- Immediate realization of anticipated costs
- Improve contemporary measures of performance such as costs, quality, service and speed
- Focus energies more on the “what” and less on the “how”

Services

- On-site installation and training for all systems
- Theoretical, analytical and proof of concept studies
- Responsive, highly skilled technical support team
